

The District Office is pushing out the communication below, via Skyward email, to all 4th-grade parents on 2/12/20.

Good afternoon parents,

During the weeks of February 24th - March 6th all elementary schools will be administering the Cognitive Abilities Test (CogAT) to 4th-grade students, during school hours. The CogAT assessment measures reasoning and problem-solving skills. There is no academic preparation needed for success with this assessment. Assessment results will be shared with you, through Skyward Family Access, in the Spring.

The CogAT is one piece of data used to help determine Middle School Math Pathways. For information about middle school math pathways, please visit the District's webpage: <http://www.svsd410.org/Page/4975>. For additional questions, please contact the Snoqualmie Valley School District Teaching and Learning Office.
